

Women's Enterprise Day Wednesday 14th November 2007

Business Insight at Birmingham Central library is hosting a whole week of free events, talks and advice on starting your own business from 12th-17th to celebrate Enterprise week.

For full details see www.bestforbusiness.com or ring 0121 303 4531

For the 3rd consecutive year, Women in Business Association will have a table with information, forward calendar of events, membership details and committee members will be available to discuss membership with any interested women at various times of the day.

If you're running or your own business or know somebody who wants to start a business, do encourage them to come and check out the business resources at Central library.

The Women in Business day is being opened by wiba committee member and director of Professional Steel Polishing, Kirsty Davies at 10am.

Other exhibitors include Arrow Fund, Aston Re-investment Trust and the Women's Development Agency with information on funding.

Other speakers include Nick Booker (effective marketing), Ian Weatherhogg (getting the best fro your website), Anthony Pilkington (basic bookkeeping), Lara Nolan and Melvia Bullock (personal experiences of women in business)

HM Revenue and Customs will be offering a free tax workshop for sole traders.

Do drop in during the day –wiba information will remain at Central library throughout enterprise week.

The event is free of charge and runs from 10am – 4pm. No need to book - just turn up! We look forward to seeing you.

Central library is in Chamberlain Square, Birmingham B3 3HQ
