

“Look, Sniff and Taste Your Way to Victory” Cheese and Wine Evening

In Association With

Birmingham Wine School & Pickles of Harborne

Tuesday 28 June 2011

Gateley LLP, One Eleven Edmund Street, Birmingham B3 2HJ
6.00pm for 6.30pm until approximately 8.30pm

This is a truly excellent opportunity to network with WIBA members and their guests whilst supporting local business and savouring the delicious wine and cheese on offer from our partner organisations. What could be a better way to spend a Tuesday evening!?

The Birmingham Wine School will be teaching us about the art of wine tasting in their renowned “Grape Game”, where WIBA members will be taught how to identify particular wines from their taste and aroma and have the chance to look, sniff and taste their way to victory. A prize will be available for the lucky winner.

Most importantly no previous wine tasting experience is required!

The Birmingham Wine School was established in 2008 and now has the widest range of wine courses in the Midlands. They run a variety of wine tasting and wine courses for people who enjoy their vino and would like to learn more about it. The School teaches people by concentrating on the flavours and aromas of the wines and shedding light on the best food and wine matches. As part of the evening they will be teaching us about what type of foods go with the particular chosen wines that they will be bringing for us to taste. They will also be able to answer questions and advise us where to buy the best wines locally (and at the best prices)!

Local business and supplier, Pickles of Harborne will also be joining us, to explore the range of cheeses, both British and Continental, that they stock and which best compliment the range of wines on offer. The cheeses will be matched with the wines provided by Birmingham Wine School to put the information we glean during the evening into gastronomic practice.

Pickles of Harborne are a local business, whose deli is hidden in a side street of Harborne along with an organic butchers and flower shop. They sell a wide range of cheeses, most of which you will find hard to source from elsewhere. They also stock cold meat, fresh bread, specialist breads from abroad, preserves, pastries and of course pickles.

Pickles of Harborne will be on hand throughout the evening to talk to us about a range of cheeses available for us to taste, as well as providing the opportunity to stock up on your favourite cheeses or other range of produce which they have to offer.

Why not come along and support our local businesses at this event whilst making new contacts along the way in what we hope will be an extremely fun and informative evening.
